Toil and thread

[Verse]

The earth is heavy my hands are worn
Digging roots where hope is born
A breath
A pause
The plow digs deep
No time for dreams
No time for sleep

[Chorus]

Toil and thread and soil and stone
Life is built where seeds are sown
We weave our fate beneath the sky
Toil and thread till the day we die

[Verse 2]

Inside the hut by candle's glow
Fingers dance on the loom they know
Patterns rise from wool and flax
While shadows stretch across the cracks

[Prechorus]

The wheel it turns the wheel it hums
The past is quiet but never numb

[Chorus]

Toil and thread and soil and stone
Life is built where seeds are sown
We weave our fate beneath the sky
Toil and thread till the day we die

[Bridge]

The raven calls from the frozen trees
The wind it whispers of distant seas
But here we stay where the earth is kind
With calloused hands and a quiet mind
