[Verse]
Wagon wheels creak on the dusty track
Dreams of a future
No turning back
Fields of promise
Skies so wide
The Oregon Trail is where hopes collide

[Verse 2]
Rivers rage and mountains loom
Each step forward could spell our doom
Blisters burn and hearts stay strong
The trail is hard but the journey's long

[Chorus]
Oh the wind howls
The prairie sighs
We march on 'neath endless skies
With every loss and every pain
We build a world through grit and strain

[Verse 3]
Campfires glow beneath the stars
Healing wounds and counting scars
Stories told of what's ahead
Dreams of plenty
Fears we've fed

[Bridge]
The buffalo roam
The wolves they cry
We face the storms
We don't ask why
For every tear and every mile
We'll make it home
We'll make it worthwhile

[Chorus]

Oh the wind howls

The prairie sighs

We march on 'neath endless skies

With every loss and every pain

We build a world through grit and strain
